Egor's Graphing Calculator is a function plotter that resembles the famous TI-83's graphing calculator hand calculator. It will allow users to generate mathematical expressions that can be adjusted by adding variables and displaying them on a graph. Egor's Graphing Calculator was created to emulate the functions found on a TI-83 calculator, so people will be able to enter math equations and evaluate the expressions by pressing a button. Key features: * Create mathematical expressions using the powerful mathematical expression editor * Preview the mathematical expressions on a graph * Insert custom variables * Categorize mathematical functions * Adjust line thickness and visibility * Zoom in/out the plotted functions
